Application Fees
Type	Fee	Notes
Corporation/partnership Master Journeyman High/medium voltage electrician Apprentice High/medium voltage trainee	$50.00	The application fee for the initial master or journeyman license is generally the application for exam and as such the examination application fee for a master or journeyman license will be at the time of application for license. Starting with the April exams there is an additional fee for the examination itself. A reciprocal license is treated as a new license and as such the application fee is applied. There is no application fee for a relicense exam.
